

We will be presenting a Level 1 Foundations training in Spiral Dynamics Integral in London, 28th to 30th September 2018. Here are the details which we hope will assist you in choosing to join us. The training is certified by Dr Don Beck and is the entry point world-wide to all Spiral Dynamics Integral training programs.

The Training

This training equips participants with in-depth understanding of the fundamentals of Spiral Dynamics Integral Theory and practice. It is a 3-day non-residential course.

This course is the foundation of all SDi practice – the entry point to this extraordinary and powerful system for understanding human dynamics and facilitating change. From the individual to the large-scale shifts of countries and cultures you will gain insights into how humanity changes, why it changes, and how to support healthy change to occur. We have redesigned our delivery to offer a larger element of experiential and embodied material.

In this 3 day seminar you will learn:-

- To recognise the different stages of development (the 8 mindsets / Values systems that underlie both personal and professional interactions) and the key motivators and de-motivators at different stages
- To understand how these stages interact dynamically as viewed from individual, historical, societal and organisational perspectives
- To be aware of the interplay between the conditions facing people in their lives, and the coping strategies (Values and beliefs) by which they optimise their existence to meet them
- An understanding of the cycle of change, how to recognise symptoms of the 'gamma trap', the life conditions that lead to it and how to flex-flow to Evolutionary Change
- To recognise the different types of change (the integral change equation)
- To recognise 'what's next' for different people (yourself included) and cultures
- that internal and external conditions affect change-making strategies
- how to communicate with and motivate people
- strategies for designing and implementing change from multiple perspectives
- the keys to support of organisations struggling with VUCA conditions or embarking on the "Reinventing Organisations" or "Teal" journeys
- an enhanced understanding of the nature of conflict and the psychology of polarisation and the implications this has for cultural conflict resolution

You will also receive a personal ValueMatch Values Test and Change State Assessment.

On completion of the training you can expect to receive a certificate as a Level 1 Practitioner in Spiral Dynamics Integral, accredited by Dr. Don Beck. This accreditation is the entry point to all subsequent trainings (e.g. Organisational Development, Leadership Mastery) in the Spiral Dynamics integral portfolio at Level 2 and above.
